Suzlon Commends Renewed Bi-Partisan Effort to Advance a Federal Renewable Electricity Standard (RES)

CHICAGO, Sept. 21, 2010 – “We commend the efforts of Senators Bingaman and Brownback to advance a stand-alone federal Renewable Electricity Standard (RES) bill with the goal of passing legislation this year,” said Andris Cukurs, chief executive officer of Suzlon Wind Energy Corporation. “A swift passage of a bill is essential to the continued growth of the U.S. wind energy industry. Quite simply, the U.S. cannot afford to wait any longer.”

“If passed, this bi-partisan legislation will help diversify our energy portfolio, improving our energy security and creating green jobs. A national RES is essential to foster stable, long-term investment in wind energy in this country,” said Cukurs.
